KENNY JACKETT

Good afternoon and welcome to this afternoon's Championship match with Bolton. We return to The Den today after two hard earned points on the road in the last two games at Burnley and Bristol City.

I thought both games were close throughout the 90 minutes with strong finishes to each match from ourselves.

At Burnley we hit the bar in injury-time with the score at two apiece and at Bristol City Andy Keogh and Darius Henderson had chances in the last five minutes from a flurry of corners.

This shows that our fitness and drive is there in the team to keep going right to the end to get the points that we want.

Our problem so far this season has been the goals against column with 18 conceded in nine games. It has to be zeros or ones against to earn points on a consistent basis. Conceding an average of two goals per game clearly has to be improved on.

Going forward we have created chances in every game and I have confidence in the strikers that we have to convert a good percentage of these into goals.

Our set-piece work hasn't been up to standard so far, with no goal scored from a corner yet while we conceded two at home to Brighton and one away at Burnley.

Set-pieces are a game within a game, and the Championship has both powerful players and set-piece specialists in every team who must be matched.

We have plenty to work on at present, but can take heart from the fact that we are close and very competitive in a strong League.

If we can nail down these key areas then the players will gain the confidence in themselves to pick up the wins that are needed to move us up the table. That confidence is hard earned and doesn't come easily. I have been impressing on the players that they have to constantly work at it to gain the level of individual and collective confidence that can then be used to make an impression on the Championship.

Last but not least, I would like to welcome Owen Coyle and everyone from Bolton Wanderers Football Club to The Den this afternoon.

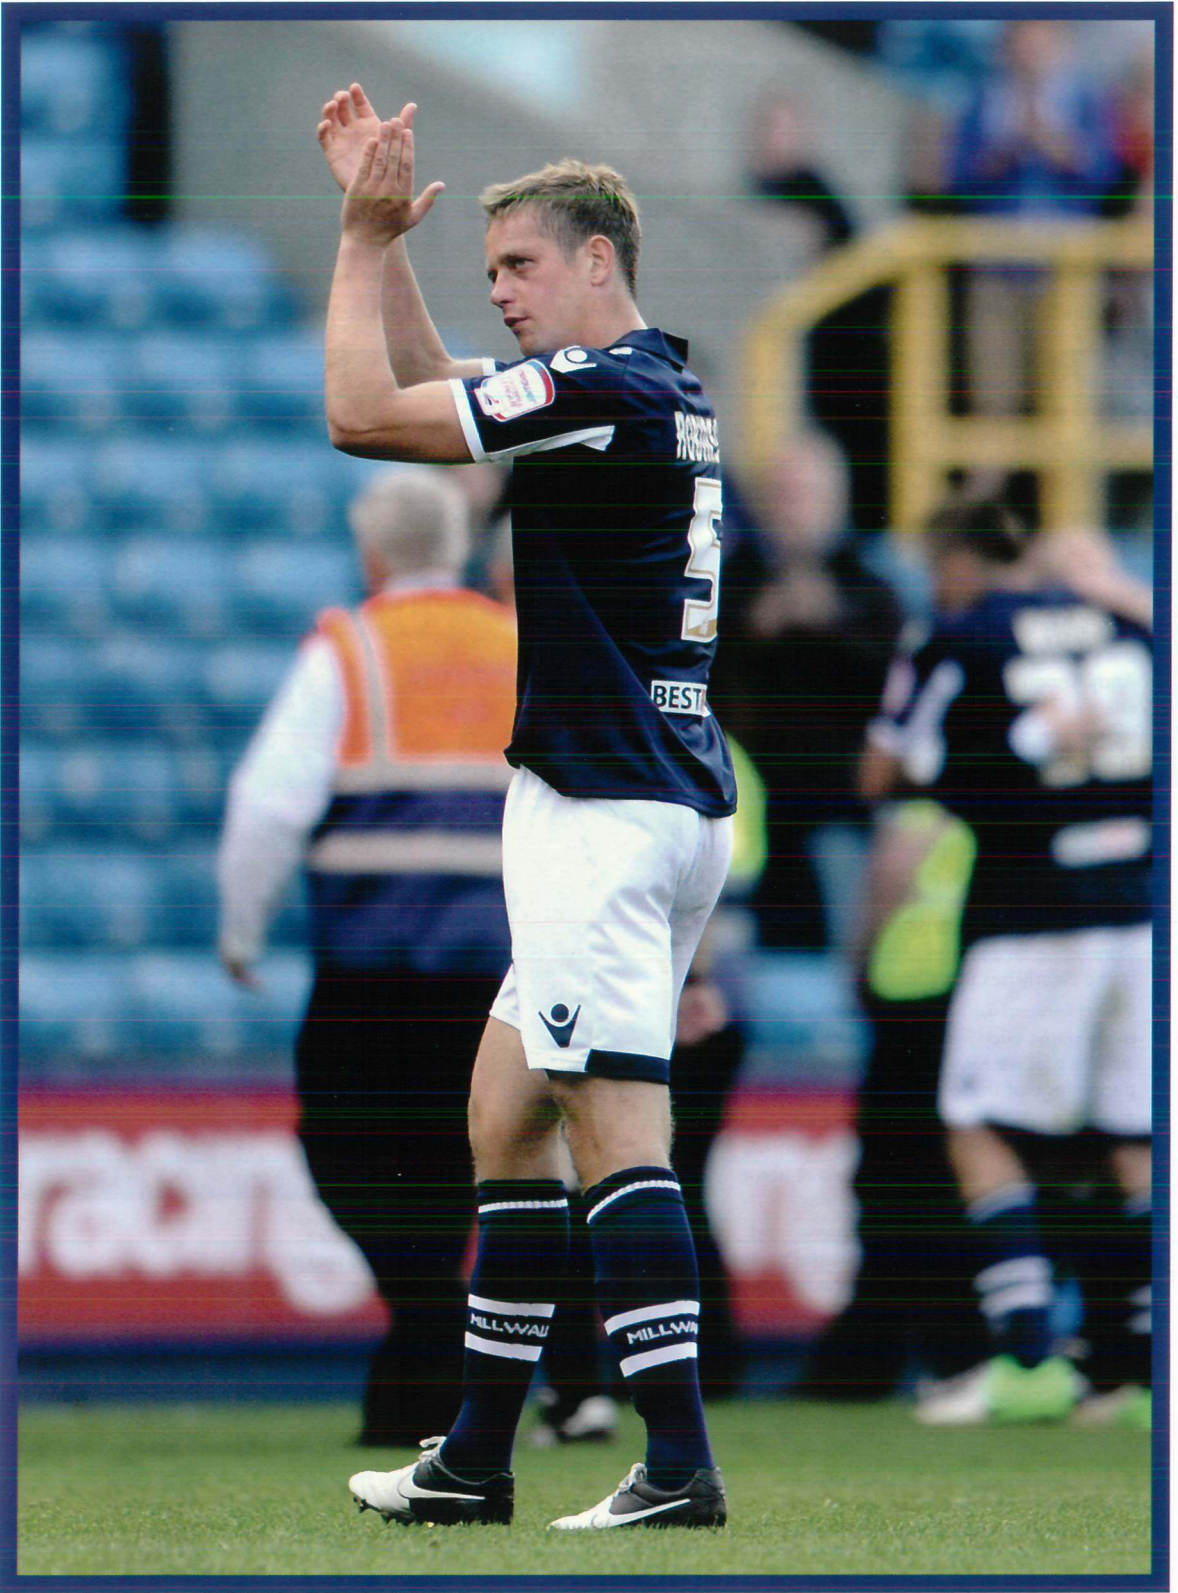

Our opponents are in the process of attempting to return to the Premier League at the first attempt and I am sure they will provide a tough test for us today.

Get behind the boys and enjoy the game,

Kenny

My own disappointment at suffering another setback personally has been offset slightly by two good away performances and a couple of useful points.

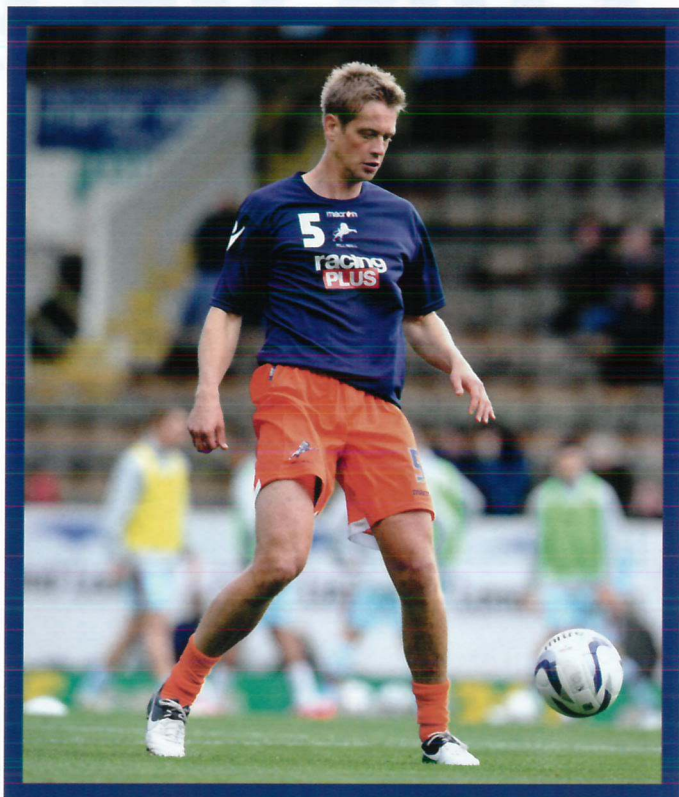

After consecutive home defeats it was vital to stop the rot and we managed to do that at Burnley and Bristol City.

As the manager rightly says, the margins between success and failure in the Championship are very small. The evidence from our early games is that we are not far away from being a good side at this level, but everyone needs to keep believing and keep working to turn more defeats into draws and draws into wins.

This afternoon's game will not be any easier than the previous two at The Den. Bolton have perhaps found the transition from the Premier League to the Championship a bit harder than they expected, but they still have the majority of the players who were there in the top flight and it is only a matter of time before they fulfil their potential I'm sure.

We have to make sure that they don't pick up their second away win here today. The atmosphere and belief within the squad is excellent and we know we are capable of beating anyone in this League. If we can sign off before the next international break with a good result here today everyone will look forward to the next batch of games, starting at Crystal Palace, in good heart.

"THE ATMOSPHERE AND BELIEF WITHIN THE SQUAD IS EXCELLENT AND WE KNOW WE ARE CAPABLE OF BEATING ANYONE IN THIS LEAGUE."

The two week break is handy from my point of view in that I won't miss any games as I work my way back to fitness again. At the time of writing I'm still awaiting the result of my latest scan, but it looks like I'll be out for a while longer than a fortnight.

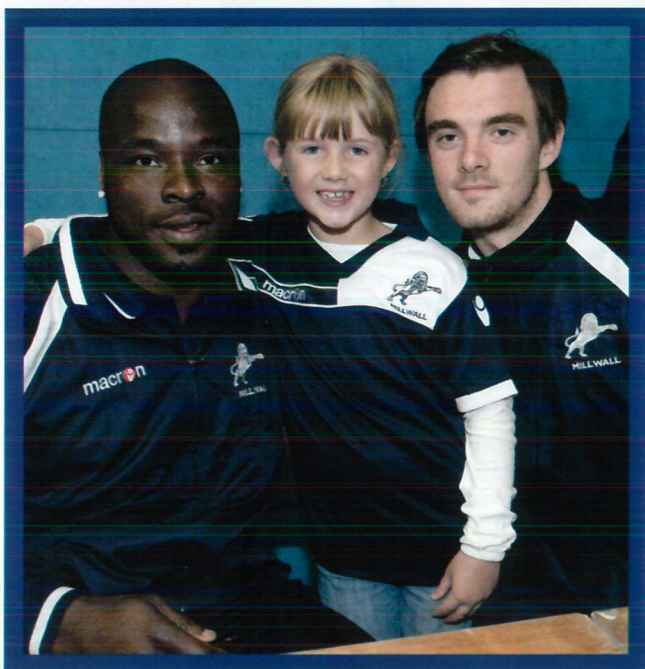

I can't begin to tell you how frustrating the start to this season has been for me. I'm so desperate to be out there helping the lads turn things round and move up the table, and I'm now having to focus on doing everything I can to get back fully fit and firing as quickly as possible without risking any further break downs.

On Sunday 23rd September, Millwall fans young and old attended the Junior Lions Community Fun Day which was being held for the third year running at the home of the Millwall Community Scheme.

The Junior Lions Committee and volunteers joined forces with staff from both Millwall FC and Millwall Community Scheme to put on a day of fun and games for the whole Millwall family.

The event was a huge success with 1,200 people attending despite the bad weather!

The funday was supported by McDonalds and Decathlon Sports. Both companies provided our junior supporters and members of our community with the chance to take part in a range of sports and challenges including badminton, table tennis, mini golf and inflatables.

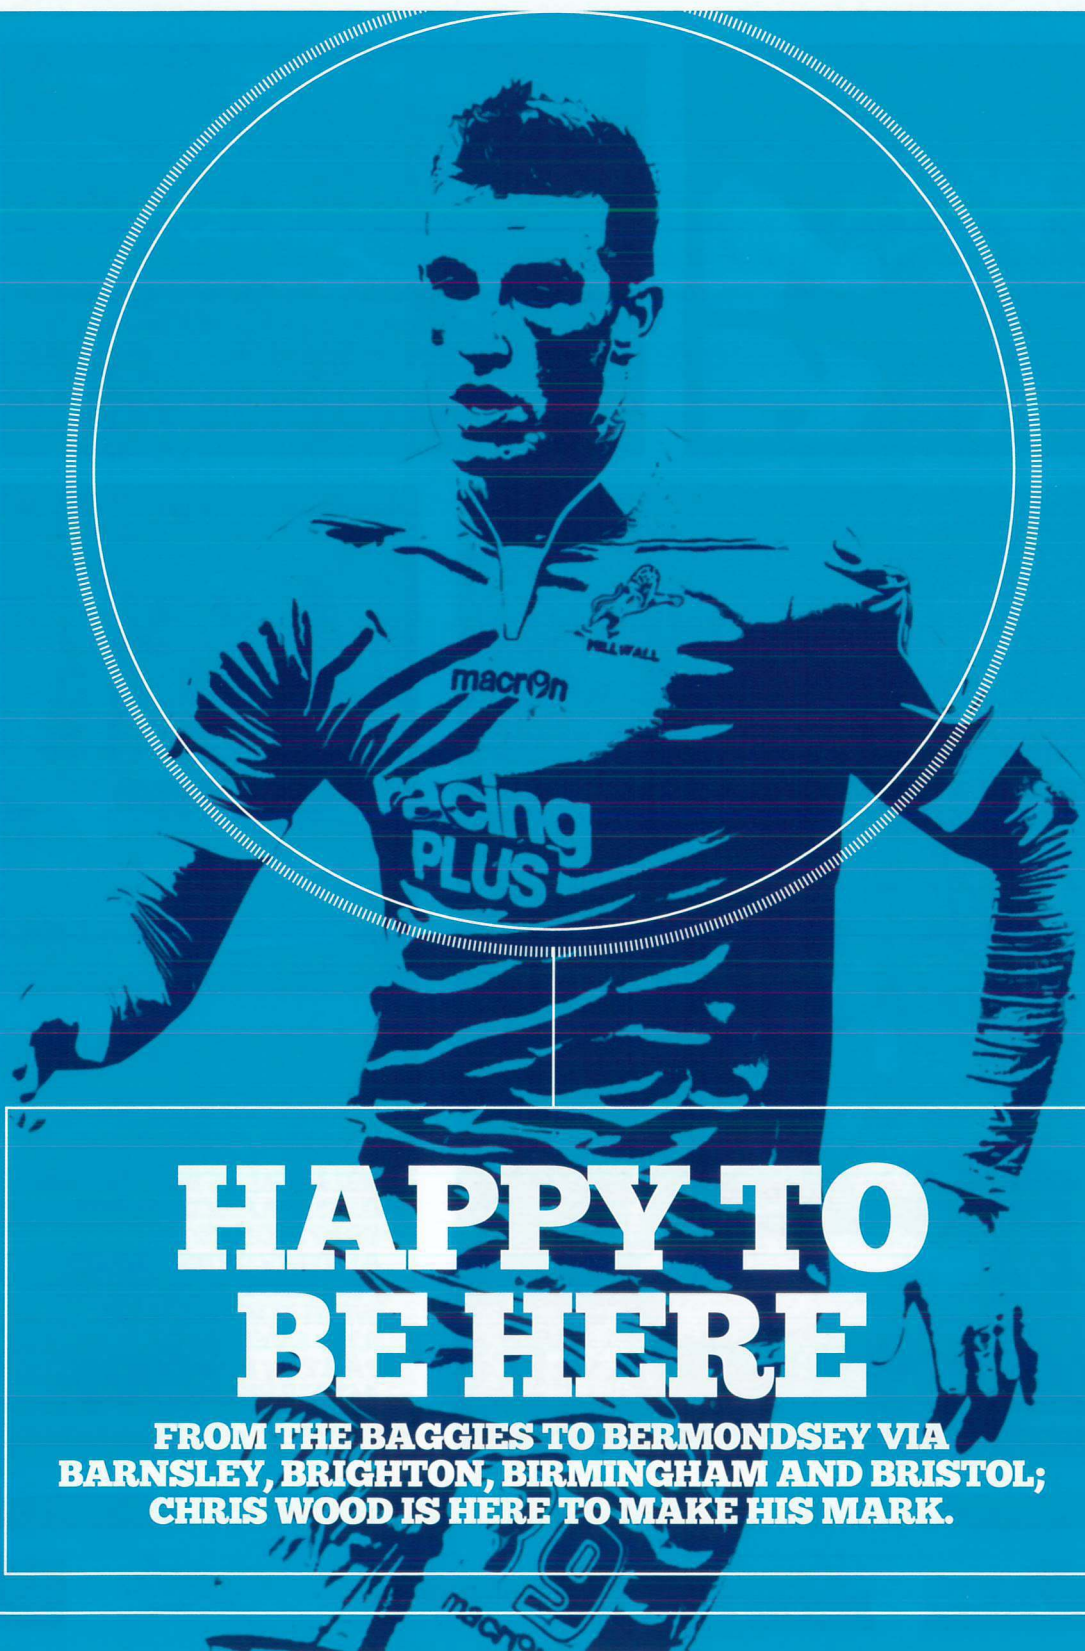

The highlight of the day was the attendance of the Millwall first team and management who signed autographs, posed for photos, mingled with the crowds and even took part in some of the activities on show.

The club would like to thank everybody who braved the bad weather to come along and hope you enjoyed your day. We can't wait for next year's event!

HAPPY TO BE HERE

FROM THE BAGGIES TO BERMONDSEY VIA BARNSELY, BRIGHTON, BIRMINGHAM AND BRISTOL; CHRIS WOOD IS HERE TO MAKE HIS MARK.

The striker has spent the last two seasons at various clubs on loan, looking to make an impact in English football.

Following his goalscoring exploits last season particularly, including a hat-trick against Millwall playing for Birmingham City, Kenny Jackett made his move for the 6'3" powerhouse during September, and Chris had no hesitation in coming to London.

"The main thing for me was the opportunity to play football. I've come here to play games. Hopefully I can do a job for Millwall while I'm here and keep my place in the side by playing well and scoring goals."

The Lions are the fifth club to bring Chris in on loan after West Bromwich Albion offered him a professional contract in the 2008/9 season. You could be forgiven for assuming that moving away from home to different places for months at a time is a lot for a 20-year-old to take, but Chris is used to the different pressures a loan move can bring.

"Going out on loan can be a difficult thing to deal with. After the first couple of weeks though you get over it and are able to properly get down to business in the team you're with."

Overall, I've settled in really well so far with Millwall. There's a great set of lads here and the staff have been excellent too. Things have been going well for me so far and I hope I can contribute to the team doing the business on the pitch."

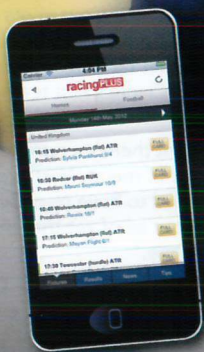

The Baggies have kept a keen eye on his progress during his various stints away from the club, but Chris is under no illusions as to the challenge that faces him in working his way into Steve Clarke's first team plans at the Midlands club.

"At the moment there's a number of top strikers in front of me at West Brom. I would have liked to have been given the chance there but as of yet that hasn't quite happened for me."

The Den is another platform for Chris to showcase his talents, and he's not ruling out a longer-term switch to Millwall in the not-too-distant future.

"There's always the option of a permanent move. I've been out on loan a lot as everybody knows but it's all about making a move at the right time. Hopefully, if everything works out well here, that right time may be in January or even the summer."

I think once I've progressed over the next couple of years I'll be ready to play in the Premier League. I'm happy to be here at Millwall with a chance to prove myself in the Championship and help the team to become a force in this League."

Chris endeared himself to The Lions faithful with what turned out to be a consolation strike in the defeat to his former club Brighton two weeks ago. A smart finish from a tight angle, he was delighted to have opened his account for Millwall less than a week after arriving.

"It's always good to get off the mark, and to do it so early was pleasing. Getting your first goal for a club is an important milestone and now it's out of the way I hope there will be a lot more to come."

It could have been even better for the striker had he not been superbly denied by Seagulls keeper Tomasz Kuszczak at the death, but Chris won't be dwelling on that missed opportunity too much.

"The keeper did very well! He came out early and made a terrific stop. It was disappointing but I'm hopeful that there will be many more chances to put some shots away."

Allied with the controversial sending off of Chris Taylor on the day, his goal ensured that Lions supporters roared their team on in the closing stages of a game they came agonisingly close to levelling, and Chris won't be forgetting his first taste of a real Den atmosphere in a hurry.

"It was good; they made a real difference. Up until that point we hadn't given them much to cheer about but once the goal went in the crowd got behind us and helped us push on."

Chris will hope he can have a similar impact with Millwall as he has done on the international stage. Approaching 30 caps for New Zealand already, he originally made serious inroads for the Kiwis when he performed superbly at the 2007 Fifa U17 World Cup, before becoming the youngest member of the All Whites squad at the 2010 World Cup in South Africa.

"The World Cup was a great experience; one that I'll never forget. To play with the national squad is great but to do so on the highest international stage you can was unbelievable. I was fortunate that the country got there and that I was then included in the team."

It is fair to say that as a country, New Zealand is known more for Rugby and Cricket than it's footballing prowess, making Chris' move to England all the more important at such a young age.

"It was easy to find clubs to play for but the standard was nowhere near as good as it is over here. I was always playing in age groups three or four years higher than my own. Getting over to England at an early age was something that I had to do if I wanted to make a career out of football.

Once everything fell into place and I got the trial at West Brom I wanted to come. Fortunately they offered me a contract and I just dropped everything, as did my mum, who moved over with me."

Ryan Nelsen is perhaps the most well-known New Zealander playing in the English divisions, but he is only one of just over a dozen plying their trade over here, a number which Millwall's number 39 believes will rise soon.

"The Premier League is very popular over there. They show most of the games so it's well known and is a League that all kids in New Zealand aspire to play in. I'm hoping that in a few years time there will be a lot more New Zealanders playing over here."

BOLTON WANDERERS

HAVING BEEN RELEGATED FROM THE PREMIER LEAGUE LAST SEASON, OWEN COYLE'S BOLTON WANDERERS HAVE FOUND LIFE TRICKY IN THE CHAMPIONSHIP SO FAR, PARTICULARLY ON THE ROAD WHERE THEY'VE ONLY PICKED UP ONE WIN AWAY FROM THE REEBOK STADIUM TO DATE.

OPPOSITION OPTIONS

Coyle's squad is packed full of players with top flight experience and quality and it may only be a matter of time before they begin to climb the League table.

SHOT STOPPERS

Adam Bogdan has been an ever-present between the sticks so far this season for The Trotters. The Hungarian managed to dislodge experienced stopper Jussi Jaaskelainen towards the tail end of last season and put in some impressive displays despite their drop to the Championship.

Andy Lonergan, who arrived from Leeds in the transfer window, has warmed the bench so far.

ADAM BOGDAN

ZAT KNIGHT

REAR GUARD

It will probably be too early for David Wheeler to make an appearance after his knee injury so Coyle will choose from Tyrone Mears, Matt Mills, Zat Knight, Stephen Warnock, Tim Ream, Sam Ricketts and Marcos Alonso.

Right-back Mears loves to attack and is a solid defender, whilst Mills and Knight could be the central pairing.

At the age of 32, Knight has an abundance of Premier League experience following previous spells with Fulham and Aston Villa. Mills, since his arrival from Leicester, has proved himself to be one of the best central defenders at this level and will give any Lions striker a tough time today.

Coyle hopes that Warnock's arrival on loan from Aston Villa will help his side to shore up defensively, and his tendency to push on will certainly provide a test for the Millwall backline too.

Ricketts, Alonso and Ream may find themselves on the bench this afternoon.

SUPPLYING THE AMMO

Today's game may also come too soon for Stuart Holden who continues his recovery from a knee injury which kept the talented midfielder out for the majority of last season.

Chris Eagles will be a constant threat down the wing and is always capable of providing telling deliveries for the strikers to feed from. On top of providing for his team-mates, the former Manchester United man also leads the club's scoring charts so far this season with four goals to his name.

Irish international Keith Andrews, who featured prominently in his country's Euro 2012 campaign, arrived from West Bromwich Albion in the summer and provides a goal threat and calmness on the ball. Allied to the energy of the on-loan Jay Spearing, Coyle has a number of potential partnerships in midfield.

BENIK AFOBE

Mark Davies is another one of those available to the Trotters boss. The clever midfielder is hard working and capable of scoring from distance. Out wide, Coyle can also call upon Marvin Petrov and Lee Chung-Yong, although both are likely to start on the bench.

FIRING THE BULLETS

The most probable pairing up front will be Kevin Davies and David Ngog, though both Benik Afobe and Marvin Sordell will be pushing for a starting berth.

Ex-Millwall loanee Davies scored three times for The Lions. His work-rate, hold-up play and aerial ability will prove no surprise to The Den faithful. Ngog, who arrived from Liverpool, will look to feed off of the chances that Davies can create.

Arsenal loanee Afobe is a pacy striker and will be determined to prove to Arsene Wenger exactly what he is capable of in his latest loan move. Meanwhile, the experience gained as part of the GB Olympic Squad will have been useful to Sordell, who enjoyed a successful period with Watford at this level.

facebook Q&A

This is the feature where the fans are the journalists. We asked you to submit your questions on our new Facebook page and here they are for Shaun Batt to take on....

Kasper Hytonen

Who inspired you to play football when you were young?

Probably my dad and my older brother. My older brother was the best player in the family and was on the books of different professional clubs when he was younger. My dad pretty much forced me to join in with training sessions so that's where the inspiration came from!

Martina Parkinson

Who's your best buddy in the Millwall squad?

Probably Liam Trotter. Jack Smith will be quite upset that I haven't said his name but it is probably Trotts!

Denise Hayes

Do you have any pre-match superstitions?

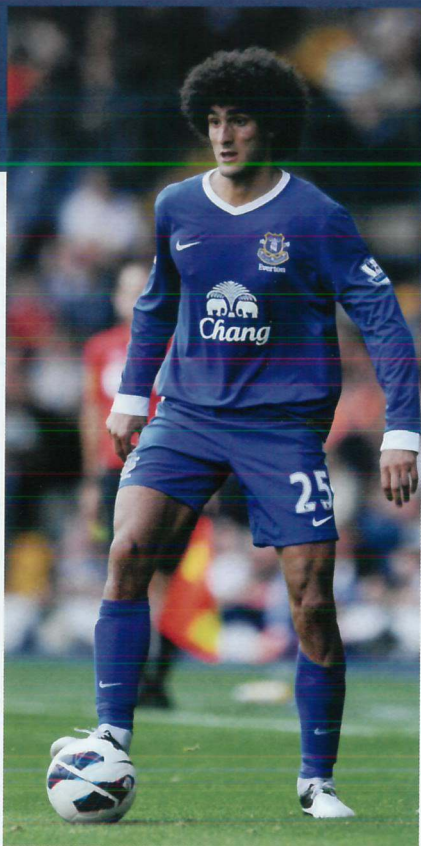

I don't have any, no. I'm not like that. I know that plenty do and there's some very strange things that some players make sure they get done before a game, but not me!

Liam Ronaldo Donovan

If you didn't have football what other sport would you play?

It would definitely be athletics. The triple jump, to be more precise. That was something I was really good at when I was younger!

James Chivers

Who would be your ideal striking partner to play alongside, either from the Premier League or the Championship?

That's a tough question! I'd probably pick Marouane Fellaini at Everton. He's so tall and is a fantastic target man. He'd be great to play with as he wins balls all day long and is someone you could feed off and use to get in behind defences with flick-ons.

Ronnie Anderson

How many goals do you think you are capable of scoring this season? Have you set a target?

I think it all depends on how many minutes I can play. As everybody knows I've missed a lot of football so it's important for me that I can try to be involved as much as possible. I'm confident in my ability and am sure that the more games I play in the more goals I can score.

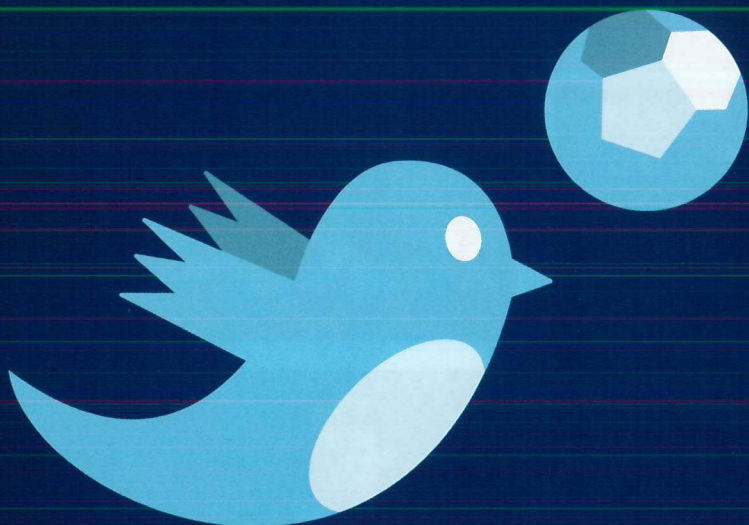

James Breton

What do you think of our kits this season?

It's an interesting question! Personally, I like them all. But if I'm completely honest it isn't something that many players pay too much attention to. We're just happy to wear whatever as long as it means we're out there playing for Millwall!

GOOD AFTERNOON TO ALL JUNIOR LIONS!

Today we take on Bolton Wanderers who have recently been relegated from the Premier League so it should prove to be a good game! Last season we played each other in the FA Cup where Bolton ran out winners with a 2-0 victory. Let's hope we can get our own back today and take all three points here at The Den.

FUN DAY SUNDAY!

We would like to thank everyone who came down to the Fun Day on Sunday 23rd September. Despite the terrible weather, there was a very good turn out with everyone enjoying the activities and meeting the team. We would like to thank Kenny and the players for signing all of those autographs! We look forward to seeing you at the Christmas Party!

TODAY'S MASCOTS

Our Junior Lions mascot for today's game is ADAM COOK, who is six. Adam goes to Hawes Down Infant School in West Wickham; the same school that our very own John Marquis went to in his younger days! Adam loves playing football and is part of West Wickham Under 7s (who John also played for). Unsurprisingly, John is Adam's favourite Lions player! In another interesting twist, the cousin of Adam's grandfather is today's Match Sponsor Kevan Hackett, who (you guessed it!) also sponsors John Marquis' home kit this season!

Happy Birthday to our second mascot today, HARRISON LAMBERT, who is 10. Harrison attends St Johns Primary School in Hertfordshire and likes watching Millwall, playing on his Xbox and playing football. He attends every home game, thanks to his Uncle Billy & Cousin Bill and would like to say a big 'thank you' to both of them. His favourite players are Liam Trotter, Andy Keogh & Paul Robinson.

DID THEY REALLY WEAR THAT!?!

TITLE TRIUMPH

One-time Millwall central defender Sam Allardyce was a key figure in Bolton Wanderers 1977/78 Second Division title triumph. Signing professional for Bolton in November 1971, he also starred as they were League Cup Semi-Finalists in 1976/77 and moved to Sunderland in July 1980. He joined Millwall in September 1981 and scored twice in 63 League outings, moving to Coventry City in September 1983. Rejoining Bolton from Huddersfield Town in July 1985, he netted 21 goals in 198 League games overall and was Bolton's manager from October 1999 until May 2007.

SAM

KEITH

IN SAFE KEEPING

Former Millwall goalkeeper Keith Branagan starred as Bolton Wanderers won promotion and were League Cup Finalists in 1994/95. Moving to Millwall from Cambridge United for £100,000 in March 1988, he contested a first team slot with Brian Horne and helped The Lions qualify for the Second Division Play-Offs in 1990/91, making 46 League appearances before following Bruce Rioch to Bolton in July 1992. The Republic of Ireland international was ever-present in their 1992/93 promotion success and played 214 League games prior to joining Ipswich Town in April 2000.

KING CHARLIE

Central defender Charlie Hurley was capped by Republic of Ireland while at both Millwall and Bolton Wanderers. Signing professional at The Den in October 1953, he made his League debut in Millwall's 2-2 draw at Torquay United three months later and scored twice in 105 Third Division (South) games for The Lions. His international debut came in a World Cup qualifier against England four months before being sold to Sunderland for £20,000 in September 1957. 'King Charlie' joined Bolton in June 1969 and netted three goals in 43 League outings while at Burnden Park.

LOAN SPELL

Bolton Wanderers striker Kevin Davies had a loan spell at Millwall during the 2002/3 campaign. The England U21 international joined Millwall on loan from Southampton in September 2002 and netted three times in nine First Division games while at The Den. He moved to Bolton from Saints in July 2003 and scored their goal in the 2004 League Cup Final. Gaining full international recognition, Kevin was an important figure as Wanderers twice qualified for the UEFA Cup.

Nigerian international central defender Danny Shittu has also appeared for both clubs in recent times.

IRISH INTERNATIONAL

Northern Ireland international goalkeeper Aidan Davison played for both Millwall and Bolton Wanderers. He moved to The Den from Bury in August 1991 and contested a first team slot with Keith Branagan and Kasey Keller, making 34 League appearances for Millwall before reuniting with Bruce Rioch at Bolton for £25,000 in July 1993. Starring as Wanderers reached the FA Cup Sixth Round in 1993/94, he also featured in their 1994/95 promotion campaign as Keith Branagan's understudy and played 37 League games prior to joining Bradford City in March 1997.

AIDAN

PROMOTION WINNER

One-time Millwall midfielder Tony Kelly starred in Bolton Wanderers' 1992/93 promotion success. Moving to Bolton from Shrewsbury Town for £100,000 in August 1991, he also featured prominently in three successive FA Cup runs, helping Wanderers to reach the FA Cup Sixth Round for the first time in 35 years in 1993/94. He netted five goals in 106 League games while at Burnden Park before joining Millwall in October 1994. Playing for The Lions in that month's First Division defeats against Grimsby Town and Barnsley, he returned to Wigan Athletic in November 1994.

SCOTTISH STAR

Former Millwall striker John McGinlay was capped 13 times by Scotland while at Bolton Wanderers. He moved to The Den from Bury in January 1991 and helped Millwall to qualify for the Second Division Play-Offs that season, netting ten goals in 34 League games before following Bruce Rioch to Bolton for £125,000 in September 1992. Featuring in three promotion campaigns, he also starred in two consecutive FA Cup runs and was a League Cup Finalist in 1995. He scored 87 times in 192 League outings for Wanderers prior to joining Bradford City in November 1997.

WARTIME FOOTBALL

Former Millwall wing-half Ernie Forrest appeared for Bolton Wanderers either side of the Second World War. Moving to Burnden Park from Usworth Colliery in January 1938, he made his League debut in Bolton's 2-0 defeat at home to Chelsea eight months later. He missed just one match during the 1946/47 campaign and his solitary goal in 69 First Division games came in Bolton's first post-war League match against Chelsea, moving to Grimsby Town in May 1948. Joining Millwall in June 1949, he scored four times in 37 League outings before moving to Darwen in June 1950.

MANAGING TO SUCCEED

Former Scotland international midfielder Bruce Rioch achieved managerial success at both Millwall and Bolton Wanderers. Capped 24 times and captain of his country in the 1978 World Cup, he became Millwall's manager in April 1990. He guided The Lions to the Second Division Play-Offs in 1990/91 and remained in charge at The Den until resigning in March 1992. Succeeding Phil Neal as Bolton's manager two months later, he steered Wanderers to promotion in 1992/93 and 1994/95 as well as the 1995 League Cup final before leaving in June 1995 to become Arsenal's boss.

CHAMPIONSHIP SUCCESS

Ex-Millwall striker Scott Taylor featured in Bolton Wanderers' 1996/97 First Division championship success. Moving to The Den from Staines Town in February 1995, he made his League debut in Millwall's 3-1 defeat at home to Port Vale two months later and played 28 First Division games before being sold to Bolton for £150,000 in March 1996. His solitary goal in 12 League outings came in their 6-1 win over Grimsby Town in September 1996 and he joined Tranmere Rovers for £50,000 in October 1998. England B international Chris Armstrong also appeared for both clubs.

AND THE LONDON CHALLENGE CUP

GOOD LUCK FROM DAVID, JAMES AND
HUGH SHRIVER -
THREE GENERATIONS OF MILLWALL FANS

Despite having had a decent record against West Ham United in the Southern League, The Lions managed to lose the first two meetings in the London Challenge Cup leading up to the First World War.

It was The Hammers who knocked out the holders Millwall 1-0 at Upton Park in 1909. Three years later, however, the scoreline wasn't quite so tight at the same venue with West Ham running out 6-2 victors. The score was 3-2 at the break, but The Hammers ran riot in the second-half. Wally Davis and skipper Joe Wilson with a penalty were The Lions goalscorers. Lancastrian Harry Taylor was Millwall's unfortunate goalkeeper on the day.

In 1913, however, it proved to be third time lucky for Millwall at Upton Park when Billy Sullivan's second-half goal was enough to send West Ham packing in the First Round.

"THE BEES COULDN'T MAKE THEIR OWN HOME ADVANTAGE COUNT IN THE REPLAY; THE RETURNING WALLY DAVIS BAGGED A BRACE TO SEE OFF BRENTFORD AT GRIFFIN PARK AS MILLWALL ADVANCED TO THE SEMI-FINAL WHERE THEY WOULD FACE CRYSTAL PALACE."

The result saw The Lions progress to face Southern League rivals Brentford in Round Two at home, a game which ended all square at 1-1 (Bob Liddell the Millwall scorer), forcing a replay. The Bees couldn't make their own home advantage count in the replay; the returning Wally Davis bagged a brace to see off Brentford at Griffin Park as Millwall advanced to the Semi-Final where they would face Crystal Palace.

The venue for the clash was Upton Park, or the Boleyn Ground to give its correct name, a place where The Lions had difficulties winning in Cup ties previously. And so it passed, as Palace recorded a 4-3 success. Trailing by two goals at half-time, Millwall launched their own version of D-Day with a barrage on the Palace goal that saw Wally Davis, George Dodd and Reg Dille all register strikes for The Lions.

Another Semi-Final that Millwall reached came in the 1925/26 season. The beginning of their run to that stage came when they entertained local neighbours Dulwich Hamlet in a 5.30pm kick-off. Hamlet were led by future England international Edgar Kail, but even he could not prevent Millwall from dominating a game to the tune of 6-0. Keeping a clean sheet was The Lions' latest England representative Fred Fox.

Second Division Clapton Orient provided a much sterner test in the Second Round, also at home. Coming back from a goal down at the interval and with fielding a line-up packed with reserves, Millwall reached their seventh Semi-Final with goals from former Nunhead player Charlie Harris and Bill Burley.

FANS' FORUM REVIEW

The Fans' Forum on 13th September was as well attended as ever. As usual, the meeting was moderated by MSC chairman Bob Asprey and was divided into two halves. For the first half Kenny Jackett and Scott Fitzgerald answered questions from the audience and in the second half, we welcomed Andy Ambler and Fan on the Board Pete Garston. The full minutes of the evening will be available online at the MSC website soon and will be included in these pages over the coming editions.

Q: With the new academy set up do we stand a better chance of keeping the good young players or will they still go?

SF: We stand more chance of keeping them as we can now offer them a lot more than we have been able to in the past, in terms of facilities and contact hours. But ultimately it is going to come down to the boy concerned and his parents. It is up to us, the youth team staff and the first team staff to create an environment that makes the players want to stay, and have a clear career path so that if they are good enough they will get the opportunities with the first team.

Q: Is that because of the gap being bridged now between the U18s and the first team with the new U21s or the new facilities we have?

SF: I think it's a bit of both; we are now running U21s so the jump up from U18s isn't that big. There are not that many 17/18 year olds playing in the Championship, so we need to have a middle ground that we now have, which gives the players time to develop. The U21s are now playing at places like The Den and others giving the stadium experience so that when they do step up they won't be caught up in that experience like a rabbit in the headlights.

Q: Kenny, what was the thinking behind letting both Tony Craig and Scott Barron exit the club at virtually the same time leaving us under cover at the left back position? I know that Shane Lowry can cover here but is it still a position you are looking to fill? And was it a decision from the players to leave or was it a club decision?

KJ: I have replaced them with Lowry and Scott Malone. Whilst Lowry has been here slightly longer it will be interesting to see how Malone develops. Shane is 23 and Scott is 21. Tony in particular was very keen to play at left centre-back as opposed to left back. However, he would have played in any position for Millwall. I had just edged Lowry above him if I am truthful. I would have been happy for both of them to stay (Craig and Barron), to compete and be squad players. Neither of them wanted to do that and both wanted to move on under those circumstances. It's a tough call because myself personally, not wanting to speak ill of either as they both did very well for me, but in some situations we needed better than those guys to some degree but they would be great to be around. However, there is only so far you can go with people if they aren't really the main players without it affecting their progress and the team. Both were a tough call, but for Tony Craig we got £150,000 as well, which does help and contribute when we are trying to move forward. Tony particularly was a hard one for me, but the in the last six months I have replaced them both with Lowry and Malone and we will see how the season unfolds.

Q: Do you see Lowry as more of a left back or a centre back?

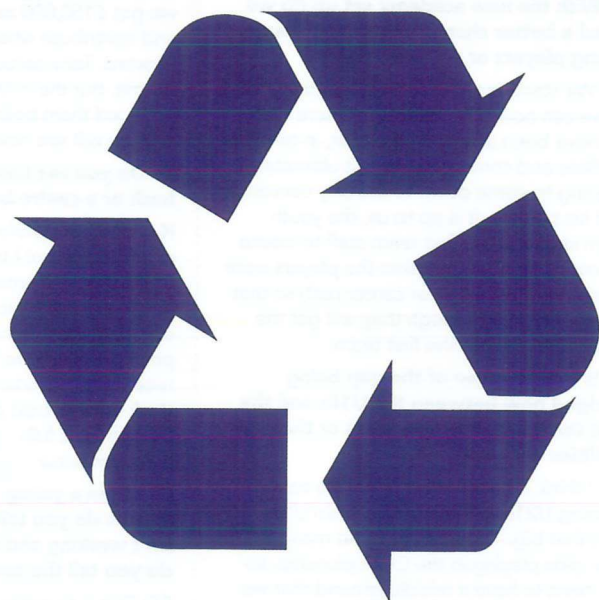

KJ: I think his preferred position is left centre-back, but I think he could do a job for us if we have injuries at left-back. Hopefully, however, with Malone, he can give us an edge attacking forward in the left-back position, which we have been missing in recent years, particularly at home. But I do think Lowry's best position is centre-back though he is fully capable of playing left-back if injuries occur.

Q: When a young player just isn't cutting it, how do you tell somebody that this isn't working and it isn't for them and how do you tell the parents?

SF: This is possibly the toughest part of the job and obviously we deal with boys from the age of 9 up to 21, so to sit and tell a young lad that he isn't good enough is a tough thing to do. We have different ways of telling them and have different exit routes for the boys as well, be it other teams or Sunday clubs and we track their progress as they move to these as well. So maybe if they have left us we would send another scout out to see them between 6-12 weeks after they have left just to check that they are comfortable at that level and the new club. In short, it is very hard and unfortunately there is no easy way of doing it. We have to do it every year in April and for me personally that is the hardest month.

There is protocol for the process, obviously we have a different coach at each of the age groups and we try to let them down as gently as possible but it is no good keeping someone if it is not going to be for the good of them either in the long term.

Tam Mkandawire, Therry Racon and Shaun Batt all started the game and helped the hosts to make all the early running. Batt went close just two minutes in when he was fed a pass from Aiden O'Brien before returning the favour soon after, only for Oliver Davies in the Swansea net to save well.

The one-way traffic continued as Batt and Tobi Alabi saw efforts go over, with Swansea's only attack ending in a rasping 25-yard drive which failed to test Steve Mildenhall. Continued on page 49

The visitors could only hold on for so long and Millwall were rewarded for their dominance with 25 minutes on the clock. O'Brien was first to a second ball in the box and his knockdown was squeezed over the line by Wilkinson.

The second-half began in much the same way but there was to be an equaliser against the run of play. Swansea were awarded a penalty after Goodman was penalised for a push in the box, and James Loveridge made no mistake from the spot to even the score at 1-1.

Not to be deterred, The Lions roared on and were back in front minutes later. A corner fell to Goodman who, after a neat turn, struck a half-volley into the top corner; leaving Swans keeper Davies clutching thin air.

Unable to muster much of a fightback, the visitors found themselves with a mountain to climb when Wilkinson added a third on 69 minutes.

The impressive Alabi broke down the left flank and found Wilkinson who turned smartly before slotting into the corner of the Swansea net.

GILLINGHAM LADIES 2 MILLWALL LIONESSES 3

THE LIONESSES HAD TO BATTLE HARD TO SECURE A SECOND SUCCESSIVE VICTORY OVER GILLINGHAM LADIES, THIS TIME IN A LEAGUE CUP ENCOUNTER.

The visitors began the game the better side, setting a quick tempo as they attempted to prove a point following the previous week's loss to the Lionesses.

A clever run down the left by Gills player Dena Cooper took her past Lioness Chantelle Mackie; her cross finding midfielder Charlotte Gurr who calmly beat Millwall keeper Yardley to give the Gills a deserved lead.

The goal sparked the Lionesses into life, the hosts creating a number of chances; Ciara Sherwood and Abigail Igbavboia in particular coming close to finding an equaliser only to be denied by good goalkeeping from the Gillingham stopper. Young striker Abby Dawson was making her first start and her clever runs continued to put The Gills' defenders under pressure.

They were made to pay for their missed chances, however, when Gillingham went 2-0 up against the run of play. In the 35th minute, a cross from the right was met by the head of Lionesses captain Dionne Lennon who diverted the ball into her own net under pressure from Gillingham forwards.

With rain streaming down, the Lionesses emerged for the second-half a completely different team. The indomitable Emma Whitter came on at the break and scored within two minutes of her introduction. A neat pass from Sherwood found the run of Whitter, who smashed a 35-yard screamer past an out-of-position Gillingham keeper.

From this moment on the Lionesses' confidence grew and they got their second goal of the match in the 50th minute with Whitter again beating the Gillingham defenders and smashing the ball past their keeper from outside the box.

In a frantic start to the second-half, the Lionesses completed a dramatic comeback when their third goal arrived with 55 minutes on the clock. Following some excellent work from Shauni Griffiths, whose shot on goal was saved by Ruth Jackson, Igbavboia found herself in the perfect position to pick up the rebound and crash the ball into the back of the net.

Manager Alberto Kurti said after the game: "We made it very difficult for ourselves today and credit must go to Gillingham as they managed to put us on the back foot in the first-half. But I never stopped believing that we would get a result today even though I had decided to rest some first team players.

"Our character shone through today as we managed to come back and dominate the game following a shaky start. The girls passion, desire and 'never-say-die' attitude was outstanding."

MAN OF THE MATCH PREMIER SUITE

New recruit Chris Wood scooped the Man of the Match award in the Premier Suite for his goal against Brighton & Hove Albion. Chris is pictured here with Melissa Durbridge who was here on her first visit to The Den.

GET KITTED OUT BY SPONSORING YOUR FAVOURITE PLAYER!

What better way of showing your support for the team than by sponsoring one of the players or members of the backroom staff this season?!

Kit sponsorship is an ideal opportunity to identify with one of your favourite players, whilst at the same time promoting your company name or personal message.

There are some fantastic benefits to be enjoyed with this sponsorship, including; personal acknowledgement in every matchday programme, a VIP day out for two at The Den for a home game of your choice (subject to availability), the chance to meet your sponsored player at the match and receive a signed replica shirt and a photograph to follow.

Kits are available to sponsor at £410+VAT and you have the choice to sponsor the home, away, training kit - or even all three (Subject to availability)

If you are interested in sponsoring a player, or simply require further information, then please contact Lisa Paget on 020 7740 0501 or email lpaget@millwallplc.com

THANKS FROM FOODBANK!

JAMES HENRY, JIMMY ABDOU AND CHRIS WOOD
ALL MAKE CONTRIBUTIONS

AS DOES MIDFIELDER TERRY RACON

PAUL ROBINSON HANDS IN HIS DONATION TO ALAN THOMPSON OF THE MSC

Once again, Lions fans, players and staff came up trumps in supporting a local cause.

Last time out here against Brighton & Hove Albion, Millwall launched its partnership with Peckham Foodbank to help collect items of food to provide emergency support to people in need within our local community.

Members of the MSC, along with Peckham Foodbank Director Chris Price and his family, were at the Blue Bus in the car park before the Seagulls clash receiving donations, and Chris has sent us this message:

"Peckham Foodbank are so pleased to be supported by the players and fans at Millwall. On the first time of asking we received nearly 90kg of donated food including cereal, pasta, biscuits and tinned food. This is much more food that we expected and will make a real difference to local families in crisis.

As our boxes become a regular feature on the Millwall bus we hope that more and more fans will join the players in donating food.

With winter coming, not getting a decent meal has a real impact on children and adults alike, so practical support through the Foodbank helps people in a short term financial crisis to get over a troubled time.

Once again thank you, we are so excited to be working with everyone at Millwall."

We will be collecting on behalf of Foodbank (via the Millwall bus) at every home game this season, so please bring an item or two from your kitchen cupboard along to the coming games here at The Den and see if we can beat that 90kg total next time.

Items currently needed: tinned meat, UHT milk, sugar (500g), fruit juice (carton), soup, pasta sauces, sponge pudding (tinned), tomatoes (tinned), cereals, rice pudding (tinned), tea bags/instant coffee, instant mash potato, rice, tinned vegetables, tinned fruit, biscuits or snack bars.

Items not needed at the moment: baked beans, pasta.

We were saddened to hear of the recent passing of former Lions chairman Len Eppel. He was the son of Dr David Eppel who had a surgery in Ilderton Road and was the founder and chairman of Arrowcroft Holdings Ltd, 110 Park Street, W1. Len developed the Albert Dock in Liverpool and became an honorary scouser. He was director of Millwall until 1982/83.
